A photograph of a road surface, likely a concrete or asphalt pavement. A white line runs horizontally across the middle of the frame. Below this line, there are three red diagonal marks, each followed by a red letter 'I'. Below these marks, the text 'S-II-2' is written in red. The road surface shows some wear and tear, with some areas appearing lighter and more textured than others. In the background, there is a grassy field and a clear blue sky with some clouds.
